

CHAPTER THREE

THE PAWNS OF WAR

“Remember always that you have not only the right to be an individual, you have an obligation to be one...”

Eleanor Roosevelt

Whether readers can accept Plato’s account in the Timaeus of a great war started by the Atlanteans, or the Mahabharata’s account of a great war between the Asuras and Devas, or the Hebraic accounts of a war between the Watchers and the Holy Ones of Heaven, or even Edgar Cayce’s account of a war between the Children of the Law of One and the Sons of Belial, the one reality for all human history seems to be that we have been in a perpetual state of war.

In many myths throughout the world, human beings are used as proxies in wars between the gods. By Hebraic accounts, wide scale warfare appears to have erupted sometime before the Flood, and did perhaps extend right up until the time of Abraham and the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah.

It is my belief that the war continues to this day, but in a fashion similar to the Cold War.

I suggest to every reader that the underlying motivations in human history no doubt follow the causes and the quiet alliances made between a few privileged human beings and entities that presently defy any physical explanation. They are recounted throughout myths around the world, and many religions clearly spell out their agenda with humanity.

The gods have mated with humans ever since Zeus kidnapped Europa. Following this idea into the present, it is clear from many personal accounts of extraterrestrial contact that in certain families the abduction phenomena can occur over many generations. From the perspective of what may be an unresolved twelve thousand year old war that makes all abductions suspicious. Are human beings merely property or pieces on an interstellar chessboard?

Human civilization has always existed as a highly structured, caste society. Despite ages of reason, or the noblest of philosophies, or the grandest documents ever written that codify individual freedom, the majority of humanity has to get by on what is in their stomachs and in their wallets. Thus those who control the food and the money easily lead us simple, physical human beings on Crusades, Revolutions, Civil Wars, and Jihads. The question is: what is the impetus in history that allows a small cabal of powerful individuals to inspire whole nations to rise up and slaughter millions of people?

Apparently, Nostradamus understood the politics behind continual warfare.

Nostradamus' Quatrain I:91

*The gods make it appear to humans,
That they will be the authors of a great conflict:
Sword and lance, before heaven seen serene
On the left hand there will be great affliction.*

Like Daniel 4:17, this Quatrain requires repeating. It is not by coincidence that humanity has once again evolved to become technologically aware. We have been led to this point in time, and that is the secret of the prophets.

The war of the gods is about to be rejoined and the human race is an integral and strategic part of it. Revelation 12:7 should be defined in modern military terms: the Watchers were exiled to Earth. The tactics generally employed by exiled governments throughout history involve assembling a highly trained, well-equipped army in the country of exile and then striking out.

This raises a host of questions concerning crashed UFOs and the development of extraterrestrial technology, and perhaps even to the oft repeated lore of some treaty with an extraterrestrial civilization where certain resources and services are bartered in trade. Werner von Braun had some interesting insight into what we may see in the future.

Cosmic Deception: Let The Citizen Beware: Dr. Steven M. Greer M.D.

As Wernher von Braun related to Dr. Carol Rosin, his spokesperson for the last 4 years of his life, a maniacal machine - the military, industrial, intelligence, laboratory complex - would go from Cold War, to Rogue Nations, to Global Terrorism (the stage we find ourselves at today), to the ultimate trump card: A hoaxed threat from space.

Since 1992 I have seen this script unveiled to me by at least a dozen well-placed insiders. Of course, initially I laughed, thinking this just too absurd and far-fetched. Dr. Rosin gave her testimony to the Disclosure Project before 9/11. And yet others told me explicitly that things that looked like UFOs but that are built and under the control of deeply secretive 'black' projects, were being used to simulate - hoax - ET-appearing events, including some abductions and cattle mutilations, to sow the early seeds of cultural fear regarding life in outer space. And that at some point after global terrorism, events would unfold that would utilize the now-revealed Alien Reproduction Vehicles to hoax an attack on Earth.

The reality of UFOs and the deeper implications to politics and history will certainly make themselves known. I suspect future historians will be amazed at our ignorance and the superficial world that we have allowed to be spun around us. Understanding the spin is essential to understanding the deception.

I do not believe that there will be a hoaxed threat from space. I believe that the threat will come from human beings in league with entities that have been with humanity for thousands of years. Each reader should ask this question: why would extraterrestrial beings allow their technology to be misused in the first place? In the material universe religion and metaphysics take backseat to natural philosophy. From that perspective, good and bad, light and dark, they are all relative to positions in the universe's food chain. From the hungry human perspective keeping herds of cattle or chicken coops is not inherently bad or evil.

So, the challenge for our generation will be meeting the universe head on and we will all have to do that individually, for it seems that the small few who know at least some of the secrets regarding the UFO phenomena will remain the small few. After sixty-one years there has to be a reason the vast majority of humanity is kept under this veil of ignorance. History certainly provides some of the answers, but unfortunately, the very first history books are now regarded as myths.

If you combine the themes arising from both the Hebraic and Babylonian myths, then there appears that there were, or are, four groups competing for control of the Earth. These are the Annunaki colonists that had first landed on the planet, the rebelling Watchers who eventually descended from orbit and began their own colonies, the Holy Ones of Heaven, who at one time ruled over both groups, and lastly, there were the Nephilim and their descendants, who were the demigods of old and would today be known as extraterrestrial-human hybrids.

Clearly, all present-day UFO activity must be put into focus through the lens of the past. Taking into account Dr. Greer's statement above and Dr. Mitchell's warning to myself and the people at our dinner table, again ask yourself, what kind of extraterrestrial civilization would allow its technology to accidentally fall into the hands of a primitive species and then allow it to be used in a war that results in billions of deaths and the enslavement of the surviving population?

In conjunction with the famous Roswell incident, there certainly seems to be a large number of reported UFO crashes all over the world. Either extraterrestrial pilots are very bad or there must be some other motive or agent at work that is placing this technology in the hands of certain governments. So, the historical record must not be dismissed.

It seems that our ancestors have sent us warnings, and unfortunately they have been distorted by thousands of years of religious dogma. I have tried to show that the Annunaki, the Holy Ones of Heaven, and the Watchers shared physical aspects as well as spiritual or ethereal aspects. Even modern-man has a difficult time dealing with the concepts of a multidimensional universe, but this is where physics is taking us.

The Nephilim may have been demigods, but in the hotly debated issue of this Hebrew word, I am of the view that it applies to the mortal children sired by the Watchers. In Greek mythology, it was generally the demigods at the head of conquering armies. They were made world leaders and allowed to form kingdoms and empires according to the dictates and whims of the gods. It is highly probable that as well as having great physical abilities, the Nephilim may have also had special sensory abilities that allowed them to interact with these unknown dimensions of physical reality.

Ancient texts tell us that the gods had their favorite races. If genetic engineering is responsible for the human genome, then the degree and the purpose of this engineering remain suspect in light of the current UFO phenomena. If you believe the Babylonian tablets recounting the Epic of Gilgamesh, then it appears that the gods were able to special order humans according to their tastes.

The Epic of Gilgamesh: Tablet I

Who can say like Gilgamesh: "I am King!"?

Whose name, from the day of his birth, was called "Gilgamesh"?

Two-thirds of him is god, one-third of him is human.

The Great Goddess [Aruru] designed(?) the model for his body, she prepared his form ... beautiful, handsomest of men, ... perfect

Gilgamesh was the demigod Babylonian King of the city of Uruk (presently known as Al Warka', Iraq). It is interesting to note that a goddess modeled his body. As I will show in the paragraphs below, this precedes the theme in the Nag Hammadi texts where the Archons modeled human beings, but it was the female emanation of the creator, whom the Gnostic Christians called Pistis Sophia, who secretly imbued humanity with the light and spirit of God, giving human beings free will.

This brings us to the concept of a "chosen race". As I have mentioned, this is the major theme throughout human history, because such ideas have always led to war and genocide. Over thousands of centuries a variety of gods have chosen a variety of races. Unfortunately, the "chosen race" has nothing to do with the human race!

Enlil led the Sumerian pantheon of gods that ruled over the Earth, and in the Greek pantheon, Zeus was his counterpart. Both of these gods seemed to have disliked mortal men. In the Epic of Gilgamesh, Enlil orders that humanity be "annihilated". What was the reason for this? If the reader accepts that Homo sapiens were genetically engineered, then there are no exceptions, every human being has descended from that first artificially constructed genome. Was it possible that Enlil was afraid that the Anunnaki's bio-engineered life forms were part of an experiment that had gotten out of control? How would the governments of the present day world react if a genetically altered life form had suddenly become very dangerous and began to spread across the planet? They would certainly try to eradicate every last bit of the artificial life form.

Noah, in this regard, however, seems to have been the one exception, for he had an identifiable physical resemblance to the Holy Ones of Heaven. For some unknown reason, this stronger connection to the sons of the gods assured his survival. It also helped being a descendant of Enoch, who was the first human to be tutored by the sons of the gods, and who was also allied with the winning side during the first heavenly war.

In the Assyrian version of the Flood, Utnapishtim was not meant to survive. Falling back on the Nag Hammadi texts, it is clear that the Archons felt threatened by their modeled life forms whom they had created to be soulless laborers, and so the Flood was engineered to cull the population.

As you read the Hebraic extracanonical accounts, there can be no doubt that the Flood was used as an instrument of the war. It was the ultimate weapon of mass destruction, and more specifically it was history's first record of ethnic cleansing. The Nephilim were to be cleansed from the Earth. The Old Testament does not even mention their demise in Genesis, but their destruction is crucial to understanding what is to come in the book of Revelation; specifically with regards to those whose "names are in the Lambs book of life".

This is a relevant place to point out the Gnostic Christian view of humanity's place in the cosmos. Gnosticism is thought to have developed out of a Judaic sect in Palestine and Syria between the second and third century CE, but there is research that shows that around the first century CE, the Mandaean of southern Iraq and Khuzestan in Iran may have been one of the first Gnostic sects. There are some scholars that believe Gnosticism predates Christianity.<sup>1</sup>

After the Christian church purged the sects it deemed heretical, the only reference to Gnostic Christian beliefs came from anti-Gnostic treatises. In Akhmim, Egypt in 1896 one set of texts, known as the Berlin Codex, was the only known Gnostic work discovered. However, this codex was not completely translated until after the Nag Hammadi codices were discovered in 1945. So, the true picture of the Gnostic belief system has only taken shape over the last fifty years. The recent surprising revelation of Judas' role in the Gospel of Judas indicates that there is still much that remains unknown about the Gnostic Christians.

Gnosticism is an amalgam of Zoroastrian, Christian, and Platonic philosophies. Acquiring "Gnosis," knowledge, especially the knowledge of good and evil, was necessary to understanding how the Authorities, or Archons had enslaved humanity by keeping every man and woman separated from his or her soul. In the Gnostic view, the Archons were the god and the sons of god that created man as written in Genesis.

The Gnostic Christian philosophy introduces an interesting twist to the Judaic concept of the Watchers and the Holy Ones of Heaven. To the Gnostics, the physical world was a prison constructed to contain the Archons. Through their own power, arrogance, and blindness, the Archons believe that they are gods. They are creatures separated from the godhead that rule over a material universe meant to contain them. They are unaware and unable to understand that a divine hierarchy emanating from a supreme, eternal, and unknowable God, rules over all.

If the Platonic idea of the demiurge was a universal ideal that crafted and shaped humanity, the Gnostic version saw the demiurge as the evil intent of the Archons. Demiurge is derived from ancient Greek (δημιουργός), and interestingly enough, it can be translated as craftsman. It is the force or impetus responsible for creating the physical universe and driving the evolution of man.

The Gnostics believed that some humans were secretly given the eternal light of God, but were purposely kept in ignorance of this spiritual connection because the Archons feared if human beings were made aware of the spiritual aspects of reality, than humans would become much more powerful and uncontrollable.

Nag Hammadi: On the Origin of the World (Translation: Hans-Gebbard Bethge and Bently Layton)

When a multitude of human beings had come into existence, through the parentage of Adam who had been fashioned out of matter, and when the world had become full, the rulers were master over it – that is, they kept it restrained by ignorance.

This is analogous to some of Edgar Cayce readings on Atlantis. It is interesting to note that the Cayce readings below were given well before the Nag Hammadi texts were discovered; yet Cayce acknowledged beings similar to the Archons. According to Cayce's channeled history of the fabled antediluvian land, the Sons of Belial tried to create soulless automatons to be their slaves. He mentions this as a misapplication of the divine laws of nature, which might be considered one of the first references to the abuses of genetic engineering. Cayce's readings about using the Creative Forces to satisfy selfish appetites is remarkably similar to the Epic of Gilgamesh and the goddess Aruru's creation of a human being to fulfill her desires.

Edgar Cayce (Reading 877-26)

The Sons of Belial had no standard, save of self, self-aggrandizement. Those entities that were then the producers (as we would term today), or the laborers, the farmers, the artisans, or those who were in the positions of what we would call in the present just machines, were those that were projections of the individual activity of the group.

And it was over these then, and the relationships that they bore to those that were in authority, that the differences arose.

Edgar Cayce (Reading 1744-1)

...Those laborers... were considered by many as merely things rather than individual souls.

Edgar Cayce (Reading 877-26)

For those who were of the ruling forces were able by choice to create or bring about, or make the channel for the entrance or the projection of an entity or soul, as the period of necessity arose.

Edgar Cayce (Readings 3633-1)

The entity was among the sons of Belial who used divine forces for the gratifying of selfish appetites.

Edgar Cayce (Readings 1298-1)

In Atlantean land just after the second breaking up of the land owing to misapplication of divine laws upon those things of nature or of the earth...

Edgar Cayce (Readings 5249-1)

In the Atlantean land the entity was the time keeper for those who were called things, or the servants, or the workers of the peoples, and the entity felt latent and manifest, as in the present, the wanting to reform, to change things, so that every individual soul had the right to freedom of speech, freedom of thought, freedom of activity...

The entity felt the need of God's hand in what evil, or Satan, had brought in the earth (for this was before Adam).

It is possible that through thousands of years of genetic manipulation, humanity does not have the sensory capability to interact with the spiritual or quantum universe. Psychic powers are perhaps small hints of some latent natural abilities in humans that have been bred out over many generations.

Whether it is called spiritual or quantum, there are aspects to the physical universe that defy any one category. Religion, metaphysics, and science all have shown us some part of the truth, but certainly all of them do not speak for the one truth. The experiences of today's alien-abductees suggest that there might be more to physical reality than either science or religion can explain. Researchers cannot even come to a consensus on how to study it without fear of ridicule.

The late Harvard University Professor and Psychologist Dr. John E. Mack believed that some people's alien-abduction experiences were a real phenomena and not psychological aberrations. After the publication and success of his book, Abduction, he was publicly ostracized and although a tenured Professor at Harvard, he had to defend his research.

Unflinchingly, he stood by his work and produced a second book entitled, Passport to the Cosmos: Human Transformation and Alien Encounters. He concluded that what the phenomena might be remains to be investigated and understood, as it may cross into the spiritual realm. For it seems that even for those witnesses who have suffered physical effects from encounters with strange entities and their equally strange and powerful technologies, there seems to be deeper para-psychological issues at work.

One of the Nag Hammadi codices, make it quite clear that the struggle is outside the physical world.

Nag Hammadi: The Hypostasis of the Archons (Translation: Bently Layton)

On account of the reality of the authorities, (inspired) by the spirit of the father of truth, the great apostle - referring to the "authorities of the darkness" - told us that "our contest is not against flesh and blood; rather, the authorities of the universe and the spirits of wickedness..."

This is also recorded in the New Testament and the Qur'an.

Ephesians 6:12 (King James)

For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places.

God revealed The Qur'an to the Prophet Muhammad beginning in 609 CE. The archangel Jibril (Gabriel) transmitted the text to the Prophet until his death in 632 CE. It states that God created three types of beings: Angels, Humans, and Jinn. The Jinn race was created from a smokeless fire, and like humans, they were capable of sin, while angels obeyed every word of God. Satan was a fire being named Iblis, who in his arrogance told God that he would not bow down to mankind.

The Holy Qur'an, Sūra 7: A'rāf, or The Heights, (Translation: A. Yusuf Ali)

11. It is We Who created you and gave you shape; then We bade the angels bow down to Adam, and they bowed down; not so Iblis; He refused to be of those who bow down.

12. (God) said: "What prevented thee from bowing down when I commanded thee?" He said: "I am better than he: Thou didst create me from fire, and him from clay."

13. (God) said: "Get thee down from this: it is not for thee to be arrogant here: get out, for thou art of the meanest (of creatures)."

The Holy Qur'an, Sūra 15: Al-Hijr, or The Rocky Tract (Translation: A. Yusuf Ali)

26. We created man from sounding clay, from mud moulded into shape;

27. And the Jinn race, We had created before, from the fire of a scorching wind.

28. Behold! thy Lord said to the angels: "I am about to create man, from sounding clay from mud moulded into shape;

29. "When I have fashioned him (in due proportion) and breathed into him of My spirit, fall ye down in obeisance unto him."

30. So the angels prostrated themselves, all of them together:

31. Not so Iblis: he refused to be among those who prostrated themselves.

32. ((Allah)) said: "O Iblis! what is your reason for not being among those who prostrated themselves?"

33. (Iblis) said: "I am not one to prostrate myself to man, whom Thou didst create from sounding clay, from mud moulded into shape."

34. ((Allah)) said: "Then get thee out from here; for thou art rejected, accursed.

35. "And the curse shall be on thee till the day of Judgment."

The Holy Qur'an, Sūra 18: Kahf, or the Cave, (Translation: A. Yusuf Ali)

50. Behold! We said to the angels, "Bow down to Adam": They bowed down except Iblis. He was one of the Jinns, and he broke the Command of his Lord. Will ye then take him and his progeny as protectors rather than Me? And they are enemies to you! Evil would be the exchange for the wrong-doers!

As I will show, it is more than likely that the Archons, the Annunaki, the Watchers, and the Jinn have been identified throughout history and every culture as part of the warring heavenly hierarchy. Considering the quotes above, this leaves many questions about the nature of a multidimensional universe. The true measure of evolution might be how efficiently a physical organism interfaces with the dimensions around it.

In the Qur'an it says that these non-physical beings whisper evil into the hearts of mankind.

The Holy Qur'an, Sūra 114: Nās, or Mankind, (Translation: A. Yusuf Ali)

1. Say: I seek refuge with the Lord And Cherisher of Mankind,

2. The King (or Ruler) Of Mankind,

3. The Allah (for judge) Of Mankind,-

4. From the mischief Of the Whisperer (Of Evil), who withdraws (After his whisper),--

5. (The same) who whispers Into the hearts of Mankind,--

6. Among Jinns And among Men.

The Nag Hammadi codices make it appear that not only are the Archons ephemeral and insignificant, so is the material universe. The Archons cannot acknowledge the one true God, whom the Gnostics thought of as preexistent and eternal, because the Archons lack the capacity to perceive outside of the physical universe. However, their bioengineered humans seemed to have been endowed with this ability by forces outside of the Archons' control.

The Gnostics believed that this deficiency suffered by the Archons came about through a singular act of creation. Pistis Sophia, who was considered a lesser emanation of God, endeavored to understand the unknowable God. This attempt at what is impossible accidentally created the Archons. Their asymmetrical birth caused the Archons to be born without a spirit or an awareness of God, so Pistis Sophia entrapped them inside of the physical universe. Unaware and unable to conceive of anything outside of it, they believe themselves to be gods.

Nag Hammadi: The Origin Of The World (Translation: Hans-Gebhard Bethge Bently Layton)

...From Pistis (Faith); it is called Sophia (Wisdom)... when Pistis Sophia desired to cause the thing that had no spirit to be formed into a likeness and to rule over matter and over all her forces, there appeared for the first time a ruler

...Lion-like in appearance, androgynous, having great authority within him, and ignorant of whence he had come into being.

He called himself 'Yaldabaoth'. But 'Ariael' is what the perfect call him, for he was like a lion.

Nag Hammadi: The Apocryphon of John (Translation: Frederik Wisse)

"And when she saw (the consequences of) her desire, it changed into a form of a lion-faced serpent. And its eyes were like lightning fires which flash. She cast it away from her, outside that place, that no one of the immortal ones might see it, for she had created it in ignorance. And she surrounded it with a luminous cloud, and she placed a throne in the middle of the cloud that no one might see it except the holy Spirit who is called the mother of the living. And she called his name Yaldabaoth.

Inside of this universe, the Archons have created and control many different dimensions of which the Earth, the Solar System, and the galaxy are apparently only a very small part.

Nag Hammadi: The Origin of the World (Translation: Hans-Gebhard Bethge Bently Layton)

Now the prime parent Yaldabaoth, since he possessed great authorities, created heavens for each of his offspring... Each one has these in his heaven; mighty armies of gods and lords and angels and archangels - countless myriads - so that they might serve.

One similar idea that appears in many religions and myths is the belief that at some time in the past one particular god, in his arrogance, declared himself to be the one supreme god over humanity and the Earth. The Gnostics also adopted this mytheme.

Nag Hammadi: The Hypostasis of the Archons (Translation: Bently Layton)

Their chief is blind; because of his power and his ignorance and his arrogance he said, with his power, "It is I who am God; there is none apart from me."

And a voice came forth from above the realm of absolute power, saying, "You are mistaken, Samael" - which is, 'god of the blind'.

Although both the Watchers and the Archons appear godlike to human beings, there seems to be a higher authority to which they are accountable and one that they apparently fear. The nature of this authority must be questioned, but on the whole, it has an aspect to it that is decidedly beneficial to humanity.

Nag Hammadi: The Origin Of The World (Translation: Hans-Gebhard Bethge Bently Layton)

...When Pistis saw the impiety of the chief ruler, she was filled with anger. She was invisible. She said, "You are mistaken, Samael," (that is, "blind god"). "There is an immortal man of light who has been in existence before you, and who will appear among your modeled forms; he will trample you to scorn, just as potter's clay is pounded.

The idea that extraterrestrials have genetically engineering humanity from the indigenous population on Paleolithic Earth has been ridiculed since the dawn of the UFO age. However, it is interesting to note that genetic engineering today has transformed the agricultural, medical, and pharmaceutical industries. In light of so many similar ancient creation myths found around the globe, it is my bet that in the future anthropologists will have to take this extraterrestrial aspect of evolution into account. Genetic tampering does not minimize humanity's uniqueness; perhaps this is the way the universe is supposed to work. It also does not discount God, for the Nag Hammadi texts do emphatically state that it was only the preexistent and eternal God that empowered the Archons' creation with life.

Nag Hammadi: The Hypostasis of the Archons (Translation: Bently Layton)

They had taken some soil from the earth and modeled their man after their body and after the image of God that had appeared to them in the waters.

But they could not make him arise because of their powerlessness.

Now all these things came to pass by the will of the father

And the spirit came forth from the Adamantine Land; it descended and came to dwell within him, and that man became a living soul. It called his name Adam.

Nag Hammadi: The Origin Of The World (Translation: Hans-Gebhard Bethge Bently Layton)

The incorruptible man Adamas asked for them a son out of himself, in order that he (the son) may become father of the immovable, incorruptible race...

To Gnostic Christians, Adam and his descendants through Seth were part of the incorruptible race that had been secretly infused with the light and spirit of God by Pistis Sophia. Symbolically, she is called faith and wisdom.

Many cultures have a god, goddess, or spirit that endowed their forebears with wisdom allowing human beings to be thinking, self-aware creatures. The Sumerians believed Ea or Enki to be the god of wisdom. When he created man, he passed on his powers of reasoning. For the Zoroastrians, Ahura Mazda was the Lord of Wisdom, for the Greeks it was the goddess Athena that bestowed wisdom to humanity.

Once again taking into account Revelation 12:19, that after the war in heaven the rebelling angels were exiled to Earth, it is possible to consider that the Archons, the Anunnaki, the Watchers, or whatever we choose to call these warring beings, are themselves imprisoned beings with limitations. Perhaps this is why they created human beings in the first place, to overcome those limitations.

If we extrapolate these creation myths a little further and take into account all the myths in the world that describe a war of gods, there was clearly a political motive behind creating a self-aware creature with the power to reason. After all, humans have developed smart bombs and drones to remove themselves from the battlefield; perhaps the gods created or genetically engineered humans to be proxies in their conflict.

As I mentioned in Chapter Two, in The Wars of Gods and Men Zecharia Sitchin examines the treaties between ancient kingdoms to sort out the feuding gods. Sitchin concluded that the Sumerian themes of a generational warring family resembled parts of the Hittite and Hurrian myths of Kumarbi recorded on the Kingship of Heaven Tablets. He also presents evidence for their similarities with the Greek, Egyptian, and Vedic mythologies concerning a generational heavenly war.<sup>2</sup>

In Hurrian mythology, Anu overthrows his father, Alalu, and Anu's son, Kumarbi, in-turn overthrows him. In a fight reminiscent of that between the Greek Titans, Kronos and Ouranos, Kumarbi seems to have castrated Anu and chased him into the heavens. Kumarbi's son, Teshub with the help of the deposed Anu, rises up against Kumarbi and seizes the kingship of heaven, just as Zeus overthrew Kronos. As you will read in the following chapter, scholars have long noted the similarities to Greek mythology.

Sitchin has also discovered that the derivation of the word titan comes from a Sumerian cuneiform, TI.TA.AN that means, "Those Who in Heaven Live." In the Sumerian tale of The Myth of Zu, Zu is a displaced heir to the throne who steals the powerful "Tablets of Destinies" and allies himself with the IGI.GI, who the Hebrews called the Watchers. Zu is eventually captured, put on trial, and executed. Sitchin points out that this victory was celebrated by the Sumerians with the beginning of the ritual sacrifice of a bull.

In a ceremony similar to that of the Jewish Day of Atonement where two goats were put up for sacrifice to symbolize the punishment of the defeated Watcher, Azazyel, the Sumerians brought a bull before the supreme Earth god Enlil. A priest would whisper in his left ear, "Bull the Guilty Zu are you." And in his right ear he would whisper, "Bull, you have been chosen for the rite and ceremonies."<sup>3</sup> The bull was then sacrificed.

The Tauroctony was an important part of Mithraism. It was a reenactment of Mithra entering a cave to kill a bull created by Ahura Mazda. This sacrificial act made its way through time from the Persian Empire to the Roman Empire where the taurobolium became a sacrifice to the great mother of the gods. It evolved from a ritual that asked for an earthly blessing of fertility and bounty, to a ceremony that saw a priest cover himself in the slaughtered animal's blood as he and his followers prayed for purification and regeneration.

This strangely mirrors some aspects of the cattle mutilation phenomena, where often these animals are completely drained of blood. Again we find that current UFO lore has its own mytheme concerning extraterrestrial regeneration, as it seems some alien species find nourishment in a bath of human blood.<sup>4</sup>

In both the Kumarbi and Zu myths, three generations within one family battle for leadership of the gods. It is the usurpers that seem to have allied themselves with the rebelling Watchers. Like the Greek myths of Zeus, Poseidon, and Hades, the Sumerian gods Anu, Enlil, and Ea ultimately divide the rule of the Earth, so presumably it is these victorious gods that still retain control.

The Sumerian Ea was the creator of mankind. The Greeks believed that it was Prometheus who created mankind out of clay, and Athena, like Pistis Sophia, breathed life into him. Just as Noah was warned of an approaching flood by the angel Uriel, so did the Sumerian god Ea warn Ziusudra and the Greek god Prometheus warn his son, Deucalion.

Zecharia Sitchin believes that Ea genetically engineered humans, as well as many of the strange animals found in Greek and Egyptian mythologies. There is a corroborating Dead Sea Scroll that supports him known as the Book of the Giants, which mentions some sort of animal monstrosities. Edgar Cayce also gave channeled information on the dangerous creatures that roamed the planet in the early years of Atlantis, and human-like creatures with animal appendages.

Since the gods resorted to subterfuge and warfare in their quest for power, perhaps Ea was building his own army in a plot reminiscent of the Star Wars movie, Attack of the Clones. In a sense, the Watchers might then be thought of as rebel forces that were trying to free genetically engineered slaves on a primitive world by giving them knowledge.

Hollywood has given the world a modern view of the creation myth.

However you want to analyze it, all evidence seems to indicate that the UFO phenomenon has existed for a very long time. Human beings are clearly more than objects of interest and study. All of our myths tell us that humans have been tools of warfare, used indiscriminately or en masse to further the agendas of beings that are clearly not gods.

Arthur C. Clarke, Profiles of the Future, 1961

Any sufficiently advanced technology is indistinguishable from magic.

Through mythology and religion, our forbearers have passed down the plan of battle. As the books of Daniel and Revelation point out, there is an evil emperor that will eventually take the reins of world power and then use human beings as storm troopers to challenge and overcome the “saints.”

Daniel 7:20 (King James)

And of the ten horns that were in his head, and of the other which came up, and before whom three fell; even of that horn that had eyes, and a mouth that spake very great things, whose look was more stout than his fellows.

Daniel 7:21 (King James)

I beheld, and the same horn made war with the saints, and prevailed against them;

Daniel 7:22 (King James)

Until the Ancient of days came, and judgment was given to the saints of the most High; and the time came that the saints possessed the kingdom.

Daniel 7:23 (King James)

Thus he said, The fourth beast shall be the fourth kingdom upon earth, which shall be diverse from all kingdoms, and shall devour the whole earth, and shall tread it down, and break it in pieces.

Revelation 13:7 (King James)

And it was given unto him to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: and power was given him over all kindreds, and tongues, and nations.

Aiding the gods in their war is the role that humanity seems to have been bred for millennia ago. Sitchin believes Ea was instrumental in allowing Kumarbi and Zu to have access to technology that made them equal to the other gods. That further associates him with Prometheus, who besides being mankind's creator also brought mankind fire from the heavens. Zeus punished him for it by chaining Prometheus to Mount El'brus in the Caucasus Mountains. For thousands of years an eagle fed on his liver until the demigod Hercules rescued him.

The Watchers and their children lived in defiance of the dictates of the Holy Ones of Heaven. Setting up their own kingdoms, they began to teach the local population science and mathematics as well as many other diverse subjects, including warfare.

Nag Hammadi Library: On the Origin of the World (Translation: Hans-Gebbard Bethge and Bently Layton)

Let us return to the aforementioned rulers, so that we may offer some explanation of them. Now, when the seven rulers were cast down from the heavens onto the earth, they made themselves angels, numerous, demonic, to serve them. And the latter instructed mankind in many kinds of error and magic and potions and worship of idols and spilling of blood and altars and temples and sacrifices and libations to all the spirits of the earth, having their coworker fate, who came into existence by concord between gods of injustice and justice.

Genesis 3:4 (King James)

And the serpent said unto the woman, Ye shall not surely die:

Nag Hammadi: The Hypostasis of the Archons (Translation: Bently Layton)

And the snake, the instructor, said, "With death you shall not die ...your eyes shall open and you shall come to be like gods, recognizing evil and good."

Genesis 3:5 (King James)

For god doth know that in the day ye eat thereof, then your eyes shall be opened, and ye shall be as gods, knowing good and evil.

Nag Hammadi: The Hypostasis of the Archons (Translation: Bently Layton)

And the carnal woman took from the tree and ate; and she gave to her husband as well as herself; and these beings that possessed only a soul, ate. And their imperfection became apparent in their lack of knowledge; and they recognized that they were naked of the spiritual element...

The Gnostics saw the serpent as an ally of humanity who gave mankind the knowledge that human beings had been intentionally separated from their spiritual source and were being used as soulless slaves. Since the serpent was a Watcher that would imply that the Gnostics were no different than the Kurdistan Yezidis who worshiped the Watcher Azazyel. It is no wonder that the early Christian Church tried to eradicate all Gnostic teachings.

Nag Hammadi: The Hypostasis of the Archons (Translation: Bently Layton)

Then the chief ruler came; and he said, "Adam! Where are you?" - for he did not understand what had happened...

Nag Hammadi: The Hypostasis of the Archons (Translation: Bently Layton)

The ruler said, "Why did you hide, unless it is because you have eaten from the tree from which alone I commanded you not to eat? And you have eaten!"

Adam said, "The woman that you gave me, she gave to me and I ate."

And the arrogant ruler cursed the woman.

The woman said, "It was the snake that led me astray and I ate."

They [the Archons] turned to the snake and cursed its shadowy reflection, [...] powerless, not comprehending that it was a form they themselves had modeled.

Nag Hammadi: The Hypostasis of the Archons (Translation: Bently Layton)

They turned to their Adam and took him and expelled him from the garden along with his wife... Moreover, they threw mankind into great distraction and into a life of toil, so that their mankind might be occupied by worldly affairs, and might not have the opportunity of being devoted to the holy spirit.

According to the Gnostic Christians, the intent of the Archons is to keep their modeled slaves isolated from their spirits through mindless worship, ritual, and the political intrigue of sectarian rivalry. It is the only way to keep humanity ignorant of its own power and its connection to the eternal. If we regain this spiritual awareness we become a threat.

Some Gnostic Christians believed that the purpose of Jesus Christ was to bring the message that the Archons were not gods and that they had no power over humanity. Adam was the first human endowed with a spirit, and this spiritual lineage was continued through Seth. The view that a select group of people exists with the ability to defeat the Archons certainly relates to the Book of Life of the Lamb mentioned in Revelation, for it is during the Tribulation that only those people written in the Book of Life of the Lamb who will be able to resist the powers of the Antichrist and the Beast.

Revelation 13:8 (King James)

And all that dwell upon the earth shall worship him, whose names are not written in the book of life of the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world.

If you refer back to Revelation 13:7, you will see that humans without spirits are nothing more than Archon bio-machines and they will be used to fight a war against the saints. These enslaved, soulless people will not be listed in the Book of Life of the Lamb. They will be conscripted and under control of the seven-headed Beast. This can also be followed back to an Old Testament apocalyptic verse from Daniel.

Daniel 12:1 (King James)

And at that time shall Michael stand up, the great prince which standeth for the children of thy people: and there shall be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation even to that same time: and at that time thy people shall be delivered, every one that shall be found written in the book.

As you will read further on, this seven-headed Beast is the political machine of the Antichrist, which I will identify now as the Group of Seven or G7 countries. These countries seem to have control of most of the extraterrestrial technology, or to be more precise, the technology given to them by the Archons. The Group of Seven is now called the Group of Eight countries since Russia's inclusion into the union of the world's richest nations. But as I will explain in Chapter Nine in detail, Russia and the United States' participation may be tenuous.

Revelation 17:11 (King James)

And the beast that was, and is not, even he is the eighth, and is of the seven and goeth into perdition.

With the idea that there may be a dissident group of bio-machines with souls or in modern terms artificial intelligence, it is easy to hypothesize that the reason genetics is a main element in UFO abduction lore is because genetics seems to be the identifier and control mechanism for those watching over the herd. I will be exploring this idea in Book Three, for it is the thirteenth verse in Revelation that also speaks of the “mark of the beast,” which is clearly going to be a society monitored and controlled by cameras, radio frequency identifiers, global positioning satellites, and implanted microchips. There is, however, someone that will be able to see through the deception.

Nag Hammadi: The Origin Of The World (Translation: Hans-Gebhard Bethge Bently Layton)

"Until the moment when the true man, within a modeled form, reveals the existence of the spirit of truth, which the father has sent.

Then he will teach them about everything, and he will anoint them with the unction of life eternal, given him from the undominated generation.

Then they will be freed of blind thought, and they will trample underfoot death, which is of the authorities ...

Nag Hammadi: The Sophia of Jesus (Translation: Douglas M. Parrott)

I came from First Who Was Sent, that I might reveal to you Him Who Is from the Beginning, because of the arrogance of Arch-Begetter and his angels, since they say about themselves that they are gods. And I came to remove them from their blindness, that I might tell everyone about the God who is above the universe. Therefore, tread upon their graves, humiliate their malicious intent, and break their yoke and arouse my own. I have given you authority over all things as Sons of Light, that you might tread upon their power with your feet."

Humanity often sees things as black or white and good or bad. Gnostic texts suggest that the Archons trapped human beings between the gods of “justice and injustice,” between good cop and bad cop. They have hypnotized their creations so that every human being remains powerless against their “malicious intent.”

In the Qur'an it is God that taught Adam the nature of all things and made him vice-regent over the Earth. And it seems that this knowledge extended beyond the knowledge that even the angels held. “They said: "Glory to Thee, of knowledge We have none..."” This caused Satan to refuse to bow down to mankind.

The Holy Qur'an, Sūra 2: Baqara, or the Heifer, (Translation: A. Yusuf Ali)

30. Behold, thy Lord said to the angels: "I will create A vicegerent on earth." They said: "Wilt Thou place therein one who will make Mischief therein and shed blood?-- Whilst we do celebrate Thy praises And glorify Thy holy (name)?" He said: "I know what ye know not."

31. And He taught Adam the nature Of all things; then He placed them Before the angels, and said: "Tell Me The nature of these if ye are right."

32. They said: "Glory to Thee, of knowledge We have none, save what Thou Hast taught us: In truth it is Thou Who art perfect in knowledge and wisdom."

33. He said: "O Adam! tell them Their natures." When he had told them, God said: "Did I not tell you That I know the secrets of heaven And earth, and I know what ye reveal And what ye conceal?"

34. And behold, We said to the angels: "Bow down to Adam:" and they bowed down: Not so Iblīs: he refused and was haughty: He was of those who reject Faith.

35. We said: "O Adam! dwell thou And thy wife in the Garden; And eat of the bountiful things therein As (where and when) ye will; but approach not this tree, Or ye run into harm and transgression."

36. Then did Satan make them slip From the (garden), and get them out Of the state (of felicity) in which They had been. We said: "Get ye down, all (ye people), With enmity between yourselves. On earth will be your dwelling-place And your means of livelihood-- For a time."

Again this is akin to so many cultural texts that say mankind was given the light and knowledge of God. According to the Gnostic Christians, it is knowledge that the Archons' are unable to comprehend.

Modern physics suggests that at the quantum level, the scale where advanced technology would operate from, natural philosophy, consciousness, and spirituality may merge. Presently, it is humanity that lacks the ability to understand the nature of the universe. From Hernando Cortez coming ashore in Mexico during the 16th century to American soldiers landing in New Guinea during World War II, there are plenty of historical examples where a primitive, indigenous population worshipped as gods strange, technologically advanced visitors. If one advanced species had the ability to create a sentient life-form, they too would be worshipped as gods.

Looking at the actions of the rebel Watchers, they may have been humanity's creators and first teachers, but a greater power imbued mankind with greater abilities. Whether this was a tactical decision to shift the balance of power among the gods, or it was an unforeseen result of genetic engineering remains to be seen. But according to most religious texts, some unearthly beings considered humanity a threat.

Nag Hammadi: The Hypostasis of the Archons (Translation: Bently Layton)

Then mankind began to multiply and improve. The rulers took counsel with one another and said, "Come, let us cause a deluge with our hands and obliterate all flesh, from man to beast."
